

Name: _____ Period: _____ Number: OD-_____

DIRECTIONS: Use your textbook pages 542-547 to fill in the following blanks using the words in this box.

Ghost Dance	Red Cloud	Little Bighorn River
Sitting Bull	Wounded Knee	Indian Peace Commission
Dawes Act	June 25, 1876	December 29, 1890
Black Hills	Buffalo	Reservations
Crazy Horse	Little Crow	Killed

Following the Buffalo

Chief (1)_____ said "The white children have surrounded me and left me nothing but an island. The (2)_____ provided most of the essentials of Sioux life. American hunters, hired by the railroads, killed thousands of buffalo.

Conflict

In 1867 the federal government appointed the (3)_____, which recommended moving Native Americans to (4)_____. Armed clashes took place between Native Americans and whites. In the Minnesota Territory, (5)_____ led Sioux Warriors in attacks against white settlers. At the Fetterman Massacre, (6)_____ acted as a decoy, leading to the ambush of government troops. Conflict with the Sioux erupted over the rumor that there was gold in the (7)_____ of the Dakotas. When the government tried to buy land, (8)_____, a Lakota Sioux leader, refused to sell. On (9)_____, George Armstrong Custer led about 250 soldiers in an attack against Sioux and Cheyenne warriors who had gathered along the (10)_____. Custer and all his troops were killed. In 1887 Congress passed the (11)_____, which proposed to break up the reservations and end tribal group identification.

TURN OVER

The ritual (12)_____ was a way for the Sioux to express their own culture.

In an attempt to stop the ritual, the army went to South Dakota to arrest Sitting Bull

During a scuffle he was (13)_____. On (14)_____

soldiers killed more than 300 Lakota Sioux who had gathered at a creek called (15)_____, which ended the armed conflict with Native Americans.